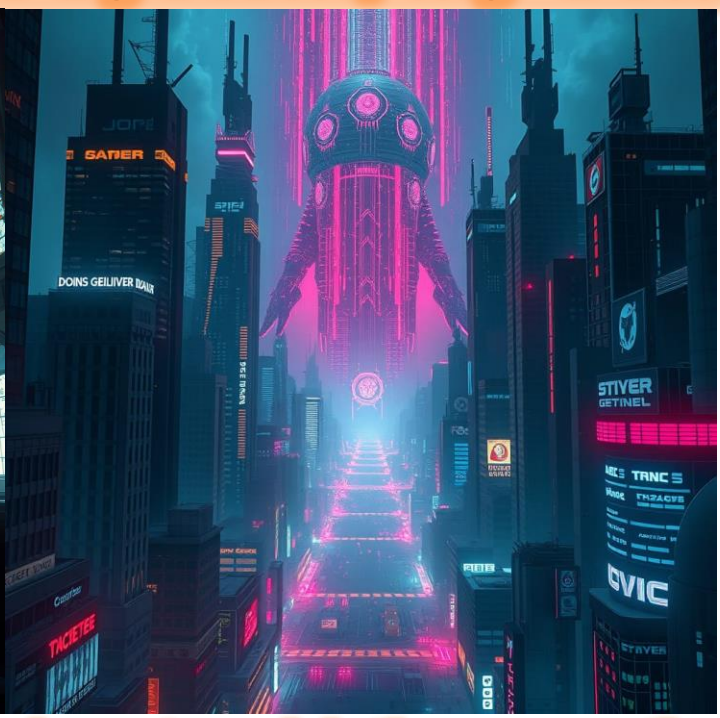
The End Of My Ministry, And The Rise Of The Beast System, My Son



“My people won’t listen to Me. I must punish them, says the Living LORD of Hosts. They refuse to obey Me— all they can think about is money, My son. Their fall will be great, when their money supply ends and their money comes down to zero value, worthless in their sight. It will litter the ground, My son. It is fast being devalued by your government, the Federal Reserve, by over-printing, My son. That is what they make money out of— out of thin air and printed paper. A new currency will be established, but this time it will be digital, My son. Carried by cards in your pocket, it will control all aspects of your life. Never again will dollar bills be printed and circulated, for the bankers will control all aspects of your life, My son. It is the End Time, the rise of the Beast System of Man, of My Antichrist of evil. Get your prophetic ministry done quickly, for the time is coming when they will lock you up in prison for this. I have spoken.”
